Family Promise:

Family Promise is in! We have been working out a few details related to their transition, namely their new laundry machine (combined washer/dryer; pretty cool) and their door entry/security system.

150th Celebration:

I would urge you all to attend this important day. A great deal of work has gone into organizing it. I would consider it a marquis day in the life of St. Paul's.

Sonitrol:

A day spent researching our church security system (inspired by a break-in in our back parking lot) ultimately revealed that Sonitrol still owes us the installation of two new cameras on the outside of our building. We are waiting for them to schedule the install.

Pictorial Directory:

Karein has been busily uploading pictures to our directory. The plan is to print one copy, have everyone in the congregation edit their info, and then print a copy for everyone. We will then update the directory annually.

Convention: Convention is upon us and we have an issue with a delegate. Tom Shriver is moving and our one elected alternate does not really want to attend and has asked me to find a replacement. So I will be asking you to approve a strategy to find alternates.

Fridge & Freezer:

The new fridge in the canterbury room has been moved upstairs to the main kitchen and the new freezer has been moved to the basement storage room (by the choir) because it will not fit in the main kitchen. The Canterbury room will then be cleaned out so that we can offer it as a possible space to Wellness.

Crossover Outreach:

They are shutting down while they transition to their new building. I am meeting on August 30 with Denise to facilitate our institutional relationship and see the new building.

What an honor it is to be the priest at St. Paul's!

God's peace,

Tom+
